A Promise to Prepare For Tomorrow

January 2010

Dear TMS Students,

I am pleased to announce that I have asked your teachers to begin nominating outstanding students each month for the 2010 Student-of-the-Month Awards. We will be considering students who may not necessarily meet the standards of more traditional awards, but have made an effort to work hard at their education despite challenges. Additional qualities that the committee considers include participation in school activities, performing civic activities or community service, and achieving or improving academically.

Every month from now until the end of the school year, the Student-of-the-Month Committee will meet and review nominations. After careful consideration, a male and female student from each grade level will be selected. Each recipient will be notified with an official letter of commendation. The official awards will be presented in late May at the Student-of-the-Month Celebration Luncheon. The honorees will be able to invite two guests of their choice to attend. Past Student-of-the-Month winners have expressed that it was one of the most meaningful events of their middle school experience.

I hope you will continue to work hard, make the most of you time, and strive for you personal best every day. You all have the potential to accomplish great things. I look forward to a successful second half of the school year!

Yours truly,

Mr. Carl L. Albano
